

G. O. P. NOMINEE REPLIES TO CHARGE

States There Would Be No Invisible Government If He Were President

SPEAKS AT OMAHA, NEB.

Terms Charge That a Vote for Hughes Means a Vote for War a "Monstrosity"

GOES TO SOUTH DAKOTA

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 16.—Charles E. Hughes replying to the charge that his election might mean that "invisible government" would be installed in the United States tonight told an audience that crowded the auditorium here to the doors that as there had been no invisible government in New York while he was governor there would be no invisible government in the United States if he were president.

"I think indeed, it might be said," Mr. Hughes asserted, "that the present administration has been in large measure an administration of unofficial spokesmen, of mysterious influences."

"And I can say, in entire good humor that I desire government thru two houses and not three."

Mr. Hughes assailed the administration vigorously for the enactment of the Adamson law, declaring it was "un-American and absolutely without justification for to surrender either legislative or executive power to the demand of force, either by capital or labor," and declared the plain people of this country should rebuke the administration for its surrender to force.

President Wilson's reference to "unshackled business" made in the same hall on the president's recent visit here was answered with the declaration that there had been no clarification of the anti-trust act and by the nominee's assertion that he was "amazed at any such claim as there has been put forward."

The administration's Mexican policy was cited as answer to the declaration that the country had been kept out of war. The charge that a vote for Hughes meant a vote for war was characterized as a "monstrosity."

What Mr. Hughes characterized as the administration's "weak and vacillating policy" was attacked.

"Some one told me today," Mr. Hughes said, "and it seems at times to be the case, that the motto of the present administration is 'a problem avoided is a problem solved.'"

The nominee faced a house that gave him a three minute cheer of welcome. Every seat was taken and all standing room in the rear of the hall was crowded, many deep.

The nominee reiterated his attack on the administration for the enactment of the Adamson law closing his speech with it. The crowd stood, waved flags and cheered.

"It is a time for taking account of stock and ascertaining what is really for the best interest of the American people," Mr. Hughes said, "when we attempt this critical examination we are met with various pleas. I confess that I am not only surprised but amused at the character of some of these pleas."

"For example, it is now said in substance that if I am elected to the position of executive responsibility for which I have been nominated, that it will result installing invisible government. The fact that I was an opponent of invisible government was my title to public confidence, and it was because I was an opponent of invisible government that, not according to my liking, indeed, against my desire I was nominated for the presidency of the United States."

"I know that we are in constant danger of subversion of the principles of government and I desire to say that as there was no invisible government in the state of New York when I had the honor to hold executive responsibility there will be no invisible government in the United States if I have the honor to hold the position of president."

"I believe in government thru constitutional agencies. I believe in government thru the recognized officers of government according to the intent of the constitution and the statutes. I think indeed it might be said that the present administration has been in large measure an administration of unofficial spokesmen, of mysterious influences, and I can say in entire good humor, that I desire government thru two houses and not three."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

BURLINGTON, Iowa.—Dr. P. C. Naumann, prominent physician, and twice mayor of Burlington, dropped dead on the street here. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

THOMAS, Okla.—Fire destroyed the mill and elevator of the Thomas Milling company here, causing a loss estimated at $300,000. One hundred thousand bushels of wheat was stored in the elevator.

MADISON, Wis.—Beatrice Foster of Macomb, Ill., student at the University of Wisconsin library school, was burned to death here when a lighted match set fire to her clothing.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—A gift of $125,000 to the Yale Alumni fund from Robert W. Kelley, of New York of the Class of 1874, was announced at a meeting of the Yale corporation.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico.—The engineers, firemen and shipmen of the American railroad, the largest on the island, and which almost encircles Porto Rico, have gone on strike. They demand a 25 per cent wage increase. Only mail trains are running.

WASHINGTON.—The keel of the superdreadnaught California will be laid at the Mare Island navy yard Oct. 25th. The navy department made this announcement amending a previous announcement that Nov. 25th, had been fixed as the date.

CANON CITY, Colo.—United States Marshal E. T. Irwin has arrived here with Nellie Douglas, a federal prisoner from Alaska, after nearly two months of traveling by dog sled, steamship and railroad. The woman sentenced to serve three years imprisonment for robbery was located in a remote part of Alaska.

CHICAGO.—Patients at the state hospital for the insane at Dunning were terror stricken when fire which destroyed four of the hospital barns leaped up the sky and for a time threatened the dormitories. Forty policemen from the Irving Park station quelled the inmates. The fire loss was $50,000.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa.—Augmented by entries for the big three day stockers and feeder show, which opened at the yards Monday, receipts of cattle for a single day broke all previous records. Counting in holdovers, approximately 20,000 cattle were in the yards and of that total about 15,000 were fresh arrivals.

COAST GUARD CREW RESCUES NINE MEN

MANISTEE, Mich., Oct. 16.—After several hours struggle with the heavy sea in months the coast guard crew from this place succeeded late this afternoon in rescuing P. T. Dailey, a contractor and eight workmen, who were carried out into Lake Michigan on a derrick scow which earlier in the day broke from its moorings here. Dailey had charge of the men who were part of a force engaged in constructing a breakwater here.

Almost at the same time the derrick scow broke loose, and the scow, the Aurora, being towed into the harbor here, broke away from the craft towing her and swung into a position that completely blocked the channel. Before rescuers could start after the derrick scow it was necessary to pull the Aurora out of the way.

The nine men were nearly eight miles out in Lake Michigan when the coast guard crew rescued them.

ANNOUNCE PLANS TO MAKE CHICAGO "DRY"

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Plans for a campaign to make Chicago "dry" in 1918 were formally announced today at a luncheon of the dry Chicago Federation. Fifty thousand dollars was pledged to carry on the campaign. Dr. Phillip W. Yarrow, superintendent of the federation said thirty two organizations had united to close Chicago's saloons and that the question would be submitted to a referendum vote in the spring of 1918. He said the federation would begin its campaign of education in a few weeks.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson of the Methodist Episcopal church was introduced as the new president of the federation.

Former Congressman Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama spoke.

CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Bristol, R. I., Oct. 16.—Edward Cure, a farmer seventy-one years of age, was given a preliminary hearing in court today on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Elijah Craig, sixty-four years of age, a farm hand in his employ. Craig died at a hospital two weeks ago of wounds caused by blows from an iron water pail, which the police allege were inflicted during a fight.

PENNSYLVANIA GOLF TOURNEY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 16.—The annual tournament for the open championship of the Pennsylvania Golf association began here today and will continue throughout the week. Leading golfers representing clubs throughout the state are entered, and some spirited competitions are promised before the matches are concluded.

PINCHOT AND WISE SEE PRESIDENT

Head Delegation of New York Independents Who Visit Wilson

REMAIN MORE THAN HOUR

Wilson States Time Has Come for America to Unite Her Progressive Forces

DISSECTS VOTE OF 1912

LONG BRANCH, Oct. 16.—President Wilson told today a delegation of independents comprising the Wilson Volunteers that the Democratic party is the only instrumentality now at hand for the enactment of "genuine humane, just and progressive legislation."

The members of the delegation came here to tell the president they planned to campaign for him in New York state, because they felt he had given the nation "a square deal."

Led by Amos Pinchot and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York the delegation remained with president longer than an hour. He talked with the delegation in the reception room of his summer residence, Shadow Lawn.

Rabbi Wise in a brief speech, declared the visitors were supporting Mr. Wilson because they were unwilling to accept the leadership of "Messrs. Barnes, Roosevelt, Penrose and Perkins." He praised the president for the appointment of Justices Brandeis and Clarke to the United States supreme court.

Mr. Pinchot told the president the delegation was with him because he felt the "issue was very clear between the forces of the Republican party, the old forces of privilege, and the progressive forces which you lead."

The president declared the time has come for America, "to unite her progressive forces." He said the leaders of the opposition want only three things, "the scalp of the present controller of the currency," John Skelton Williams; to get control of the banking system of the country and to put the army and navy back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world.

"The problem that America has had to face for some time," said the president, "has been to unite and organize her progressive forces. They have been present in the nation for a long time. They have been running like undercurrents. Here have been asserting themselves here, there and elsewhere in some times unexpected quarters but not until four years ago did they disclose their numerical forces."

Dissecting the presidential vote of 1912, which he called "striking," the president said that of the more than 15,000,000 votes cast, 10,000,000 were cast for the progressive candidates and programs of the campaign, represented by the Progressive and Democratic parties. Of the remaining 5,000,000 votes only 3,500,000 were cast for the Republican candidate, "a most extraordinary manifestation of the desire of the people of the United States to move forward along new and constructive lines in respect of their policy."

He said that for a long time the Progressive element had been the dominating one in the Democratic party and the election four years ago showed the strength of that element in the Republican ranks, as given by the Progressive party vote. "Now, since then," continued President Wilson, "this group in the Democratic party has had an opportunity to show the country whether it meant what it said or not, and it has shown that it did mean what it said, that it was a genuine progressive force ready to do the things that it had promised to do."

"Those who oppose us are men who can sum their desires in three propositions. To put it as they would put it, they want the scalp of the present controller of the currency—I can only conjecture because for the first time in many years he has obliged the banks to obey the banking laws; knowing him to be honorable, knowing him to be efficient, I can conjecture no other reason. In the second place they desire to get control of the new banking system, and in the third place they wish to put the army and navy of the United States back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world. In private this is what they avow. It ought to be avowed in public and it summarizes as compactly and neatly as I need be summarized the general purpose of the leaders of the three and a half million."

"I want to say in passing with regard to this three millions and a half of my fellow countrymen that

HURLS MISSILE THRU WINDOW OF "DRY" TRAIN

Showers Glass Over Landrith and Others of Party

None are Injured—Official Report to Wabash Officials States Either a Stone or a Bullet Struck the Train.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—A missile, probably a stone, hurled by an unidentified man, crashed against the rear window of the dry special train observation car just outside Fort Wayne, Ind., tonight, showering broken plate glass over Ira Landrith, the prohibition vice-presidential candidate and other members of the party, but injuring none. For a time it was believed that the train had been fired upon. Landrith and Mrs. Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago and Judge Frank E. Herrick of Wheaton, Ill., thought they heard a report of a gun and the hole in the window appeared as tho it might have been made by a bullet. A stone was found on the observation platform later.

An official report made to Wabash railroad officials at Montpelier, O., struck the train. Investigation was begun.

Earlier in the day at Greensburg, Ind., a man had yelled from the crowd that Landrith "ought to die." At Fort Wayne, Landrith saw several men peering at him thru the window of his compartment and one of them said, "there he is now." He was undecided tonight whether to accept the stone theory.

Frank Hanly, the presidential nominee who was in a drawing room of the observation car when it was struck, was convinced that only a stone had been hurled. Landrith was sitting with his back to the window when it was struck. Suddenly Mrs. Stewart, who was facing the window, saw a man step out into the track behind the moving train. Almost simultaneously a report was heard and something, probably a piece of jagged plate glass, the size of a nickel later found fifteen feet from the two passengers whizzed past their ears. A shower of glass fell.

Hanly, speaking in the state of which he was formerly a Republican governor, was warmly received. The crowds at Marion and Huntington, where he spoke in court house yards were especially large and enthusiastic.

The party came here for a night meeting. Hanly devoted today chiefly to defending himself for leaving the Republican party when it refused to adopt a national dry plank.

BEGIN EXAMINATIONS OF MEDICAL GRADUATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Examination of medical graduates were begun here today by the national board of medical examiners for the purpose of furnishing a national system of certification. Ten candidates are taking the examinations.

Certificates issued by the board will show high attainment in medical knowledge and it is believed they soon will be accepted by state boards as evidence of qualification for licensure. The board was formed last year. Its membership comprises the surgeons general of the army, navy and public health service one other representative from each of the three services, three representatives from the federation of state medical examining boards, and six members at large.

GOVERNOR REFERS TO GAMBLING REVELATION

MONMOUTH, Ill., Oct. 16.—Governor Edward F. Dunne, speaking here today brought forth as a campaign argument against the election of Frank O. Lowden, Republican candidate for governor, the "recent revelations of gambling and graft in Chicago under the present city administration."

"It is an occasion for taking very serious alarm," Governor Dunne declared, "since the election of Lowden as governor is part of the general program to control all branches of government, city and state."

It was the governor's first speech of the day. Later he went to Galesburg to speak.

AGREE UPON DEMANDS

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 16.—A wage increase of three cents an hour and a demand for the 8-hour day thruout the six allied crafts of railroad shopmen of 17 western railroads was agreed upon at a conference of the shopmen here today.

The crafts prepared an ultimatum outlining their demands which will be presented immediately to the railroads employing the craftsmen.

JOHN S. O'CONNOR DIES

Honesdale, Pa., Oct. 16.—John S. O'Connor, pioneer cut glass manufacturer and inventor died at his home at Hawley, near here today, as the result of a fall. Mr. O'Connor cut the glass that took first prize at the Paris Exposition. He was born in Londonderry, Ireland, June 6th, 1831.

BURGLAR ESCAPES FROM JAIL

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 16.—Ernest Olet, a burglar sentenced from Bureau county, scaled the thirty foot east wall of the state penitentiary here today with a braided rope and escaped. Twenty feet from where he went over the wall, James McDonald, a guard was on watch with a rifle, but he failed to see the convict. Olet's absence was discovered only when a count of men was taken after the rope had been found. His home was Indianapolis.

WOULD ELIMINATE OBEY FROM SERVICE

Episcopal Commission On Prayer Submits Min- ority Report

PENSIONS SEEM ASSURED

Bishop Lawrence Tells of Progress in Pension Fund Campaign

TO ADJOURN OCTOBER 27

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—Elimination of the word "obey" in the promise of the woman in the marriage service was recommended in a minority report of the joint commission on prayer submitted to the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal general convention here today.

The house of deputies referred back to the commission on prayer book all proposed changes in the marriage ceremony in the catechism, and in the institution of clergymen.

These matters cannot come before the general convention again for three years.

The minority report recommended that the present injunction beginning, "wilt thou obey him and serve him," be changed to "wilt thou love him, comfort him, honor and keep him, in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto him so long as ye shall live."

It also was proposed to expunge the expression, as "Isaac and Rebecca lived faithfully together, etc" and merely say, "living faithfully together."

Many declare there is no reason why Isaac and his wife should be regarded as models when there were many other husbands and wives equally faithful. Numbers of changes were suggested in the majority report. Among them were the shortening of the Ten Commandments as read in the communion service; the elimination of a specific prayer for Jews and Turks, it being argued that the present prayer for Jews and Turks in connection with infidels is disrespectful and inaccurate, "because it is clear Mohammedans is meant instead of Turks."

A proposal submitting the word "condemnation" for "damnation" in the Epistle for the fourth Sunday after Epiphany was contained in the report.

Establishment of a pension system for Protestant Episcopal clergymen seems assured, the Right Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts announced at a joint session of the two houses of the convention.

Bishop Lawrence, who is leading a church campaign to raise $5,000,000 as a reserve for a pension system for the clergy presented the report of the trustees of the fund. He said two thirds of this amount had been given in cash or in pledges of unquestioned validity.

The bishop added that he believed every clergyman retiring after March 1st, 1917, would be assured of a pension and that the widows and orphans of the clergy would benefit from the fund. The proposed pension is $600 a year for each minister, the present average salary of the clergy being estimated at $1,000 a year.

Auditing of church accounts by "outside bookkeepers" was recommended in the report of the joint committee on business of the church. The commission said it was astonished by the "great number of cases of almost criminal carelessness" which its inquiry developed. "Bad methods," it was declared, "invite dishonesty, create losses in innumerable ways."

Tonight a public non-sectarian reception was held in honor of the Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of St. Louis, presiding bishop of the church who is celebrating the golden jubilee of his Episcopacy.

Final adjournment of the convention which has been in session since last Wednesday was set for Friday Oct. 27th.

Discussion of pension for the clergy brought to light the fact that for many years the salaries of missionary bishops have been $3,000 annually. A resolution adopted by the house of deputies, instructed the board of missions to consider the salaries of these bishops and of missionaries in the "light of the constantly increasing cost of the living," before fixing their future compensation.

Urging the support of the church to the pension fund for the clergy the Right Rev. Walter T. Sumner,

War News Summarized

While both the Vienna and Berlin war offices announce merely a continuation of the fighting on the Transylvanian front between the Austro-German forces and the Roumanians, the Roumanian army headquarters reports that in the Alt river region the troops of King Ferdinand have occupied several positions held by the Teutonic allies. On all the other sectors of this front, according to Bucharest, attacks were repulsed by the Roumanians, except in the Burzen Valley, where the Roumanians were compelled to withdraw slightly further south.

Hard fighting is going on from the west of Lutsk, thru Galicia to the Carpathian mountains. In Volhynia despite fierce attacks by both sides there seemingly is a stalemate. Petrograd reports that neither the Austro-Germans nor the Russians have been able to gain an advantage in Galicia where battles have taken place along the Transop-Grasne railway east of Lemberg and to the north of Stanislaw.

Several small successes for the Austro-Germans have been attained in the Carpathians. The big guns on both sides of the Somme in France did the greater part of the work.

On the Macedonian front the British troops have reached the village of Bursuk, eight miles southwest of Demi-Hissar. Along the Cerro river and north of Nidje mountain forces of the entente allied troops attacked the Teutons, but were repulsed.

The provisional government of Greece formed on the island of Crete has been formally recognized by the entente powers.

ATTORNEY GENERALS DEFEND BLUE SKY LAWS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Blue sky laws of Ohio, Michigan and South Dakota designed to check sales of fraudulent securities and held unconstitutional in lower federal courts were defended by attorney generals of three states today in oral arguments before the supreme court. Decisions on the appeals are expected to effect similar laws of about twenty other states.

Attorney General Turner of Ohio, argued that the lower courts erred in concluding that the Ohio law restricts interstate commerce and attorney general Fellows of Michigan and Caldwell of South Dakota defended the laws of their states as not burdensome upon legitimate security transactions.

The arguments will be closed tomorrow.

GEN. BLISS BEFORE JOINT COMMISSION

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 16.—Major General Tasker H. Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the United States army, appeared again today before the American members of the Mexican-American joint commission. Later it was intimated that the discussion by the joint commission of the various schemes for border control would not be forced by the Americans until a sufficient time had elapsed for General Carranza to show the efficiency of his latest punitive expedition, relative to which new assurances were given the commissioners today by Ambassador Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican commission.

Mr. Cabrera said his government would begin at once an "intensive" campaign against Villa.

SULLIVAN BELIEVES DEMOCRATS WILL WIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic leader, who returned today from a trip thru the central and southern part of the state expressed the opinion Illinois will be found in the Democratic column in November.

"It is my honest belief that both President Wilson and the candidates on the Democratic state ticket will carry Illinois," said Mr. Sullivan.

GERARD WILL MEET WILSON NEXT MONDAY

LONG BRANCH, Oct. 16.—It was announced today that James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany who returned to this country last week, will confer with President Wilson here next Monday. A first hand report on conditions in Germany and on international questions affecting the United States will be given to the president by Mr. Gerard.

Ambassador Gerard has been invited to lunch with the president and probably will remain most of the afternoon. President Wilson plans to make public tomorrow a summary of diplomatic correspondence between himself and the rulers of several nations involved in the European war on the subject of Polish relief.

HURRICANE MOVING ACROSS GULF OF MEXICO

Washington, Oct. 16.—Shipping was warned again today by the weather bureau again of a hurricane moving across the Gulf of Mexico. The disturbance was central tonight off the northwest coast of Yucatan peninsula with a wind velocity of 74 miles an hour. The barometer reading was 29.40. The storm continues to move in a northwesterly direction.

PADUCAH, KY., MOB HANGS TWO NEGROES

Lynchings Follow Five Hours Labor to Enter Cells

ORDER SALOONS CLOSED

One Negro Was Charged With Attacking Wife of Rail- way Employee

BODIES BURNED LATER

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 16.—On the heels of two lynchings here today Paducah prepared for possible further trouble tonight by ordering its saloons to remain closed and by swearing in extra peace officers.

The authorities, it was stated, feared the lust for blood among the employees of a large railway might be whetted by the summary execution during the day of two negroes whose bodies were afterwards burned. One of them, Brock Kenley, was charged with attacking the wife of one of the employees; the other, Jesse Thornhill expressed sympathy for him and, it was said, lauded his act.

Kenley was taken from the county jail and Thornhill was seized on the streets. Followed by a crowd estimated at 5,000 persons, a large part of them in automobiles, the negroes were taken to the home of the woman about two miles away.

While one was pointed to her for identification, the other was taken to a tree, a rope thrown over a limb, his neck encircled in a noose and an automobile hitched to the other end. As soon as the other negro had been identified as the assailant of the woman he was led to the same tree and the process repeated. Spectators mounted a railroad trestle in the immediate vicinity of the Rose home and witnessed the execution of Thornhill. The boy's pleadings were in vain.

After assuring themselves that both negroes were dead the members of the mob lowered the bodies and placed them on a blazing pile of brush. The bodies were charred beyond recognition.

The lynchings came after five hours labor to enter the cells in the jail and were the outcome of an attack made Friday upon Mrs. George Ross at her home in the suburbs. The mob battered down the jail door but they had to send for a foundry man to cut the bars to Kenley's cell.

ESTABLISH OUTPOST SOUTH OF EL VALLE

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—American cavalry columns are patrolling south, east and west of Colonia Dublan, field headquarters of the punitive expedition for the first time since the Carrizal clash, according to trustworthy advices brought to the border today. The Americans are reported to have established an outpost 20 miles south of El Valle for the purpose, it is said, of preventing surprise attacks on small American detachments by Villa bands reported several days ago as being in the vicinity of Namiquipa.

BENSON IN FRESNO, CAL.

Fresno, Cal., Oct. 16.—Allan L. Benson, Socialist candidate for president, speaking at the Municipal auditorium here tonight said:

"We are not enjoying prosperity but suffering from it. Mr. Wilson says the wealth of the country has increased by forty one billion dollars, but both Wilson and Hughes know that the working class made that wealth and lost it. They can't make this an issue, because both represent the class that got the wealth."

LAND CASES ON TRIAL

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 16.—Clarence L. Reagan, United States district attorney for Oregon, is here to conduct the trial this week of six men charged with fraud in the locating of settlers on Oregon and California grant lands. This will be the second trial of the cases, the first trial last June having resulted in a disagreement of the jury. The six defendants are William G. De Gram, Norman B. Cook, W. A. S. Nicholson, Sidney L. Sperry, A. J. Reetz and Franklin P. Bull.

Seek to Unite Farmers and Labor Union Members

In connection with the meeting of the state federation of labor in Quincy this week there will be a conference between labor representatives and farmers. This conference has been arranged by joint agreement of the federation and the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union. The promoters declare that there are many legislative and other matters in which the farmers and the workers have interests in common and it is hoped that a better understanding will result from the conference and that there may be some united action along various lines. When the time comes that the laboring classes and the farmers get to a working alliance
they will have corralled about all the power and influence there is.
The combination of wage earners
and the producers of farm products
gives a vision of vast power.

Young Women to Prepare for First Aid

Tomorrow a school of national preparedness will be opened under the auspices of the woman's section of the navy league. The school is the gift to the league of Mrs. Julian James, vice president of the woman's section, and is a memorial to her brother, Commander Mason, of the U. S. navy. The school, which is really the outgrowth of the whole preparedness movement, is intended for the special purpose of training
young women for war emergencies.

No doubt at the present time
there will be no difficulty in securing the enrollment of those anxious to learn how to give "first aid to the injured." But, judged by experience, it will be somewhat difficult
to keep up this enthusiasm for service,
especially when "wars and rumors of wars" come to an end, as is earnestly hoped will be the case for this country at least, at no very distant date.

Seek to Show Monroe Doctrine Viol- ated

If we were guided by some of the military authorities on the other side of the ocean who are allied with England we must believe that the recent operation of the German submarine U-53 constituted a violation of the Monroe doctrine. The effort is being made to show the situation cause for vigorous action on the part of the U. S. against Germany if the sacredness of the Monroe doctrine is to be preserved.
This, however, is not the view held in this country, where it is believed that the U-53 campaign did not violate international law nor the spirit of the Monroe doctrine. It is easy enough for the European strate-
gists to insist that the submarine campaign constituted European interference on this side of the Atlantic, but it is another matter to prove that the attack of the German submarine on English ships was in any manner interference with affairs
on the American continent.

A War About Tongues.

The English language is now the only one authorized in public schools of Manitoba. In the past there have been 126 bilingual French schools, 61 German and 111 Polish. There more than 16,000 pupils were given instructions in partially English and partially their ancestral tongue. It is as a result of the great war that

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

POOL DRIVERS.

The man who drives a motor car
where crowds of human beings are should have his wits as bright and keen as is the sparkling gasoline.
A motor is a deadly thing, this
sure to slay and wound and maim,
unless the driver's wits and sense,
possessed of clear and active brain,
flow sinful then, the sudden skate,
who says, "Before I pull my freight,
along the crowded streets to fly, I'll drink four fingers of old rye." With tanglefoot beneath its belt, he goes
as fast as he can pet; his eyes distorted by old booze, the course of safety he won't choose. In haste to get to other bars, he knocks the wheels from passing cars, and makes the dodging walker swear, and kills a lawyer here and there. He is a messenger of death; and any man whose dark blue breath suggests long sessions at the bar, should never run a motor car. If "Safety First"
is what you mean, you can't mix
gin and gasoline.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

October 17, 1759—The French posts
in Illinois were leveled upon heavily for the expenses of the war against the British in Canada.

siderable trouble is looked for by the government in enforcing the order.

The French Canadians take the ground that the equality of languages is a constitutional right bargained for and settled at the cession of Canada by France to England in the 18th century. If the German and Polish elements take this same view and are willing to make a strong contest for their rights the war of tongues is far from settled in Manitoba.

Farmers Club Should Meet Soon.

It is possibly a little early to resume regular meetings of the Morgan County Farmers' club but officers of that organization should certainly plan for sessions to begin at no very distant date. Last year the unfavorable weather which delayed farm work made it seem necessary to postpone the farm meetings until January. As a result, only three or four meetings could be held before the spring work came and then farmers were again too busy. If meetings are resumed in November it will be possible to continue them longer and to outline a series of subjects for discussion
which will prove even more valuable than the work done the past two winters. The farmers' club is a useful organization but it has not yet reached its highest possibilities.
Since every resident of Morgan county
is directly or indirectly interested in agriculture, farm questions are of vital importance to the whole community and the club meetings
should be more frequent.

Men who have observed the good work done by crop improvement associations and farm advisers in other communities are hoping the time will come when an active crop improvement association and an adviser have place in this county. Perhaps the time has not yet come for realization of this hope but the Farmers' club is simply another name for a crop improvement association and that should be developed earnestly and sincerely now, no matter what be done with reference to the adviser.

Handling Contagious Diseases.

The manner in which the scarlet fever situation in the second ward was handled by authorities has been the occasion of considerable comment. By agreement of the city department of public health and safety and the board of education it was determined that school should not be dismissed because of the appearance of several scarlet fever cases and instead the plan was followed of medical inspection for the pupils each day and the visitation and inspection
of any home where such course was considered advisable.

This method of the handling of contagious diseases has been followed with success in many cities and is considered a decided advance over the old method of closing the schools and thus losing a large amount of valuable time from the school work
and also disorganizing the children.
It has been found that if vigorous measures, such as those followed at the Lafayette school, are undertaken
as soon as the existence of contagious disease is known, that the measures are effective. Only a few cases now exist in the second ward and those who are familiar with the situation have strong commendation for the action taken. The city and the school board authorities worked in harmony and, with good results.

Those Sudden Changes

The Christian Herald tells of experiences of a reader in Montana
with the sudden changes in weather. The writer referred to one day in the early summer at his Montana
home, when the mercury registered 98 degrees. This was on Saturday and two days later it began to blow
from the northwest, a cold wave
came and by night it was snowing hard. Twelve hours later this snow melted but orchards were severely damaged. This happened in a part of the country whence usually come stories of uniform weather conditions.

Very frequently one hears complaints in Morgan county about the sudden changes in weather but local residents who travel to the south,
north, west or east know that the changes here are not nearly so decided or so sudden as occur in other climates. Down in Florida where many people have the idea that the days are always warm and salu-brious, the thermometer in the winter time will often drop 20 to 30 degrees in a day's time. True it does not get below 50 degrees but the cold is of a kind which makes people more uncomfortable than the severe weather here. When you are talking about any disadvantages of Morgan county, don't include the weather changes.

Festival Talk is Favorable

The fall festival is a matter of history and the retrospect is very pleasant. The Journal has interviewed a large number of business men and the universal verdict was favorable. Naturally the hotels and refreshment establishments made
the greatest direct gain to a good number of merchants said their trade was perceptibly better festival week than it was the corresponding week last year or the week immediately before.

All agreed that it was well to bring people to the city and have them get acquainted with the business men and get accustomed to coming here. The park is being rapidly restored to normal condition and while the grass is somewhat injured the park is for the use of the people and they are entitled to get the best they can of it. It is to be regretted that some persons managed to elude the police and purloin

some of the articles left in the tents tho there was no great loss. Some things may be improved on next year and it is to be hoped there will be a larger and better affair at that time. One leading business man said he wished there might be a festival each month and all said once a year or oftener.

What Hughes Would Have Done

Hughes struck out straight from the shoulder when a heckler in his audience at Louisville demanded to know what he would have done
when the Lusitania was sunk. After some difficulty with the audience which wanted to throw the heckler out, Mr. Hughes succeeded in quieting it and replied, "Sir, I would have had the State Department, at the very beginning of the Administration, so equipped as to command the respect of the world. Next, I would have so conducted our affairs in Mexico as to have shown that our words meant peace and good will and protection of the lives and property of American citizens. And when I said 'strict accountability' every nation would have known that I meant it; and finally, when notice
was published regarding the action threatened I would have made it known in terms unmistakable and unequivocal that we would not tolerate a continuance of diplomatic relations if the threat were carried out." It is not surprising to learn that the candidate's audience went wild with enthusiasm, that, as one correspondent described it, "at Mr.
Hughes' last word there came something more than a roar—it had a wilder, more hysterical quality.—
It was like a hysterical yell, and it lasted for several minutes," while thousands of men hammered each other on the back and threw their hats in the air and acted like men gone slambang crazy." And the demonstration was tremendous not because of the words, but because his hearers believed that he meant what he said and knew that had he been President, the Lusitania would never have been sunk. As President Wilson was saying at Indianapolis, almost at the same moment, "speeches are interesting in proportion as the people who hear believe what the speaker says."

This is the first day for registration for the coming election. See that your name is on the poll book.

DEDICATE PYTHIAN HOME FOR THE AGED

Jacksonville Team Wins First Prize
in Dramatic Order Drill—Grand Lodge Session Opens Today.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 16—"This home embodies a spirit of friendship. We do not call it charity or benevolence," declared Judge A. A. Par-low of Danville, in his speech of acceptance of the Pythian home for the aged, dedicated today by the Illinois Grand Lodge, with impressive ceremonies, before 2,000 Pythians. The new home was erected at a cost of $60,000, two miles north of Decatur and relieves the home
for Pythian Orphans, erected here
six years ago and now to be devoted exclusively to the care of chilren of dead Pythians.

Supreme Chancellor John J. Brown
of Vandalla delivered the dedication address and John J. Winters of Carbondale, vice-chairman of the home
board of trustees made the speech tendering the home.

Prizes were awarded to the winning teams in the morning competitive drill of uniform rank drill and dramatic order, Knights of Khoras-san. First honors of uniform rank were won by Danville, 92 percent
and second went to Bloomington, 82.25 percent.

D. O. K. K. first honors were won by Ilderim Temple No. 62, Jacksonville with 92 percent and El Medi Temple No. 1 Peoria, took second with 91.5.

An effort to defeat H. F. Caldwell, for 39 years grand keeper of record and seals, and the contest for grand outer guard between J. W. Oc-tator, Decatur, and Swenson Y.
Whitlock, Tuscola, will feature the grand lodge session which opens tomorrow.

WORTH KNOWING

Women are liable to ailments which cause constant ill-health and on which they may consult doctors without much relief. It is well worth knowing that they can get at the nearest drug store a simple medicine made of roots and herbs, which is just what they need to recover health. That medicine is Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—

latives.

Mrs. Minnie Pierce returned last week from an extended sojourn with her son, R. C. Pierce, at Hammond, Indiana.

AMERICAN HUMANE
ASSOCIATION

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 16.—Representatives of more than 500 anti-cruelty societies in the United States and Canada are here to take part in the fortieth annual convention of the American Association of Humane Societies. The sessions will continue four days and will be presided over by Dr. William O.
Stillman, of Albany, N. Y. A feature of the convention will be a celebration in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of anti-cruelty work in America.

The first two days of the conven-ation are to be devoted to work for children, and the last two days to the work of animal protection. One afternoon has been set aside for the American Red Star animal relief work. Dr. Charles W. Delano of Boston will report on the conditions along the Mexican border.

EL PASO EXPECTS
MANY VISITORS

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 16.—Unless all signs are misleading El Paso will entertain the largest crowd of visitors in her history during the ten days beginning today. Hundreds of strangers, from different parts of the United States, are already here
to attend the international soil products exposition and the series of international congresses which deal with live problems of interest and importance to those engaged in agriculture and the kindred industries.

There will be practically three events in one—the soil products exposition, at which has been assembled agricultural, industrial and commercial products from 20 states,
all in competition for valuable prizes;
the annual sessions of the International Farm Congress, which draws its membership from two hemispheres and prosecutes an extended educational campaign, and the annual sessions of the International Irrigation Congress.

"I meet with the suggestion that the present administration has done a great deal for business. It is said—I believe it was said in this city—that it had unshackled business. Well, when I inquire how this has been accomplished I am referred to the anti-trust act.

"It is said that business was heavy with uncertainty because of the lack of clear definition of the wrongs described in the anti-trust act and that this administration had come to the relief of business and had secured adequate definition of evil.

"I know something of the statutes and I think I know what they declare and what they mean or at least that it can be said they do not accomplish and I am free to say that it can be said they do not accomplish and I am free to say that there has been no clarification of the anti-trust act. There has been no definition of the offenses described by the anti-trust act.

"What has been done is the addition of a phrase to the law the content of which no lawyer knows. I refer to the phrase 'unfair competition' or 'unfair methods of competition' which has been introduced into the law thru the federal trade commission bill a term of unknown purport.

It is said that the matter is referred to the federal trade commission and here is another extraordinary fallacy. The federal trade commission cannot define its own powers or the legal meaning of the terms which confer those powers. What has been accomplished by the introduction of this fake phrase is the invitation of years of litigation in order that in some way we may find out what it means.

"Then, it is said that business has been aided by the government shipping bill. Now that is the kind of aid to business which it does not seem to me business can afford to have. I do not believe in introducing the government into competition with private industry in this country.

"If we desire to ascertain what is the real attitude of the addition to business we have little difficulty in ascertaining the fact. We say at the very outset of the administration a great opportunity for this nation to participate in mean for certain bankers who had taken up the work really I believe at the suggestion of former administrations in the great loans which were to be made for the development of China.

"Here was a legitimate basis for the extension of American enterprise. If the administration really desired that we should have American enterprise expanded thruout the world and that we should have our just influence in the far east there was an opportunity for a proper basis for it. Instead of that it was discouraged, and the result was that the participation was not taken advantage of.

"One of the most distinguished supporters of the administration, Dr. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard examined the record of the administration to the conclusion that its record with respect to Mexico meant this; that hereafter we did not propose to afford full protection by force of arms to those who represented American enterprise in foreign parts; and yet it was only four years ago that our opponents wrote in their platform, that the constitutional rights of American citizens should go with them thruout the world, and that they should have full protection wherever they were lawfully, for their lives and their property.

"The result of that according to the analysis made of the record of the administration notice has been served that full protection will not be accorded to those who go abroad carrying American enterprise in foreign parts; and yet, it is said we should encourage foreign trade; yet it is said we should serve humanity."

Mr. Hughes left here at 1 a. m. for points in South Dakota.

I do not believe them to be in the plot. I believe them to have been misled by ancient prepossessions, by old prejudices, by inveterate habits of voting from which they have been unable to break away. But the purpose of their leaders is patent to everyone who has studied the annals of recent legislation of this country. Here then we strike the essence of the campaign. An instrumentalism of enlightened legislation, genuinely Democratic in spirit, is, if their suggestions are accepted, to be replaced by men who have no public objects except the objects of spoliation. Can any one wonder that thoughtful men in such circumstances are beginning to see, that we are facing the most critical choice, that has been made in our generation, because we are now to choose, for the time being at any rate, the very character and foundation of our government? We are to choose its spirit, its objects, its motive and we are to choose between the interests of the great mass and body of people and the interest of certain privately controlled and secretly concerning interests."

AN ERROR IN NAMES

Thru a confusion in names in the Sunday Journal the statement was made that the Meredosia band furnished the music for the final day of the festival. The fact is that the Merritt band provided Saturday's carnival program and the numbers were so well given that the musicians received a great many compliments. Some members of the Meredosia band who drove to Jacksonville in the evening put on women's dress and paraded the square in the evening while the Merritt band was giving a program. A letter to the Journal from Bert Chrisman, secretary of the Merritt band, states that this action on the part of the Meredosia organization was not considered courteous to the Merritt band, who recently gave their services without charge for the Meredosia home coming. The Journal regrets the error in names made in the previous article.

PILGRIMAGE TO TIPPECANOE BATTLE GROUND.

Much interest is being shown in the Pilgrimage to the Tippecanoe Battle Ground of the Society of the War of 1812 on Sunday, Nov. 5th, next—the 145th Anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe. The United States daughters of 1812 will join officially in this Pilgrimage.

The Tippecanoe Battle Ground, on the banks of the Wabash nine miles north of Lafayette, Indiana, is now a very beautiful park with a large auditorium and other buildings. A station on the Monon Railway is at the entrance to this park.

There will be appropriate exercises including a program of music and patriotic addresses, beginning at 2 p. m.

bishop of Oregon likened the church to an employer and the clergy to the workmen.

"Our church owe the pension to its workmen, the clergy," he said. "It's only a matter of social justice."

Monell Sayre of New York pleaded for the support of the pension fund as a community duty.

"If you pension the minister," he said, "they will live longer; more of them will get married and they will rear larger families."

Francis L. Stetson, New York, who prosided, referred to "tainted money" when he quoted a churchman as saying that there need be no fear of it "for money loses all personality when it goes into the church pension fund."

A proposal to appoint a joint committee to supervise the printing of the book of prayer in Italian was submitted to the house of deputies by the house of bishops. It was explained that the additions of thousands of Italians' communicants makes this step necessary.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Illinois Seniors in Annual Banquet

The senior class of Illinois college enjoyed the annual banquet Monday evening at the Hotel Douglas. The banquet was served at 7 o'clock and after the repast, Clay Apple, president of the class called upon Prof. J. G. Ames, who served as toastmaster. Impromptu toasts were responded to by Hansel Wilson, Miss Grace McLaughlin, Harold Humphrey and Mr. Apple.

Birthday Surprise Party

A surprise party was given in honor of Joseph McAlister at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Rolson, near Woodson Sunday. The occasion was in honor of Mr. McAlister's fifty-sixth birthday and the relatives present spent a very happy day. Burgoo soup was served in addition to other good things, and when the guests left it was with the hope that they would be present to help Mr. McAlister celebrate many other birthdays. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and daughter, Maria, Mr. and Mrs. James McAlister, Mrs. Melissa Henson, Mr. and Mrs. James Rolson and two daughters, Helen and Hazel and son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sooy and daughters Myrtle and Bernice, and sons Carl and Harold.

The daughter has not yet been found by the police.

ARRANGING FINAL PLANS

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 16.—Final plans for the nation-wide celebration of the quadri-centennial of the Protestant Reformation, which will begin on October 28th, 1916, and continue until October 21st, 1917, were arranged today at a meeting of the joint national executive committee representing several large official bodies of Lutherans.

MISS BEATRICE FOSTER DEAD IN WISCONSIN

Former Medical Librarian Here Dies from Burns Monday Afternoon at 2 O'clock—Attending University.

A message received by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Carlson from their daughter, Miss Beatrice Foster, told of the death of Miss Beatrice Foster, which occurred Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Madison, Wis., where both young women are attending the library school of the University of Wisconsin. Miss Foster met death as a result of burns but details of the accident have not yet been received. A telephone message earlier in the day told of Miss Foster's misfortune and stated that she had been taken to a Madison hospital.

Miss Foster was for two years a Jacksonville resident, having had charge of the Morgan County Medical Library. Her home was in Macome and upon leaving this city four years since she took a librarian's position in her home city at the Western Illinois State normal. She then went to Platteville, Wis., and until recently has been assistant librarian at a state normal school there. Miss Foster entered the school at Madison at the beginning of the fall term and was a room mate of Miss Carlson.

Miss Foster was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Foster of Macomb. A brother and three sisters survive. Mr. and Mrs. Foster were at once sent for and were at the bedside when death came.

Miss Foster had many friends in this city and the news of her sudden death will be received with surprise and sorrow.

TEACHERS' FIGHT REACHES FEDERATION

Will Work for Passage of Law Guaranteeing Public School Teachers the Right to Organize.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 16.—The Teachers' federation fight in Chicago reached the State Federation of labor today in an accepted report of the committee on schools submitted in the afternoon session of the state convention.

The report authorizes the officials of the state federation to draw up a measure for presentation to the state legislature providing a law that will guarantee to public school teachers the right to organize and affiliate with organized labor.

The report also calls for: "A law that will guarantee permanency of position during efficiency and one that will make it impossible for the board of education to dismiss without notice and without hearing."

"A paid board of education for Chicago the members to be elected by the people."

"Free text books to be furnished to all children and all text-books to be printed by the state or municipality."

"Compliance with the new state law of sanitation and an effort to bring all rural schools up to the qualification known as 'superior' but that this not be done at the expense of the teachers."

A system of employment for the inmates of the penal and reformatory institutions of the state was recommended and the report of the committee of convict labor.

DECIDE ANOTHER POINT IN RATE CASE

Court Permits Nebraska Roads to Maintain Rates Promulgated July 3 by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 16.—Another point in Nebraska's freight rate cases was decided today when Federal Judges J. W. Woodrugh, Walter I. Smith and James D. Elliott issued an injunction that, in effect will permit the carriers to maintain, temporarily at least a schedule of rates promulgated July 3rd, by the interstate commerce commission.

These rates are much in excess of those ordered by the state railway commission. In deciding the case in favor of the shippers the commission issued what it contended to be a reasonable schedule of tariffs to be charged by the railways, subsequently the railway companies filed suits to restrain the state commission from taking action to prevent the railway companies from complying with the order of the interstate commerce commission and also to restrain the state commission and the state attorney general from bringing action against the railway companies based upon their failure to comply with "order 19."

This is the action which was temporarily decided today. The case will come up again at a hearing to be held later to determine where the injunction shall be made permanent a provision was made in the order that the rates promulgated by the interstate commerce commission from cities on the east bank of the Missouri river to points in Nebraska be maintained until the case is permanently settled and that the railways keep their books open so as to show how much has been collected in freight rates in excess of the rates provided in order No. 19, this fund to be held in trust until the termination of the action. It is also provided that the railways shall be liable to shippers for any amount paid in excess of the rates provided in order No. 19 if the injunction is held to have been improperly granted. In addition the various companies are requested to furnish bonds of $50,000 each to insure the payment of any damages that shippers may suffer.

PIN CROSS OF LEGION OF HONOR ON AMERICAN

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The cross of the Legion of Honor was pinned on the breast of Norman Prince, the young American aviator, as he lay on his death bed in the hospital at Gerard, near the Vosges. Prince had taken part in a great aerial raid which had been followed by a stirring fight in the air between the entente allied aeroplanes and German machines. He suffered injuries to the head which apparently were the direct cause of his death.

The wounded during the aerial duel, the American pilot kept his gun going, warding off hostile craft which had ascended to attack the French bombing squadron. He remained long in the air, coolly facing the fire of the German machine guns. Finally in attempting to land he struck an aerial cable, the mischance, it is thought being due to the injuries that he had received in the fight. He was picked up unconscious and died apparently without suffering.

NINETY PERCENT OF MEN FAVOR STRIKE

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 16.—Officials of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, announced here today that ninety percent of the ballots recently cast by Trainmen of the Canadian Pacific railway, who are demanding concessions in the way of working hours and duties, support the recommendation of the investigating committee favoring a strike. Both sides admit there are good prospects of an agreement, negotiations for which are under way.

ALTON'S EARNINGS INCREASE

New York, Oct. 16.—The Chicago & Alton railroad earned during the year ending June 30, $16,225,000, an increase of $2,079,000 according to a report made public here today. Operating expenses were 11,691,000 an increase of $529,000, and gross income after expenses of $4,491,000 a gain of $1,442,000. Payments of rentals and fixed charges left a deficit of $171,000, comparing with a deficit of $1,690,000 a year ago and a surplus of $1,518,000 two years ago.

TELLS POLICE TO PUT BLOOD HOUNDS ON TRAIL

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Oct. 16.—Jim Ali, a Turk, held with Zakar Bogosian, an Armenian in connection with the kidnapping and beheading of Alphonse Magarian, three years old, told the police here today he had a dream Sunday night and that he believed he knew where the boy's head could be found. He asked to be taken to the home of Bogosian and led the police to a room where blood stains were found on a mattress. There was no head, however.

Asked what he thought about it Ali said:

"One of us killed the boy. Put bloodhounds on the trail and if they lead to me I am willing to swing for it."

He refused to say anything further.

REPORT LARGE TROOP MOVEMENTS.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—Arrivals from Mexico report large troop movements out of Chihuahua in the campaign against Villa whose partisans are said to be in control of Namiquipa. A follower of the bandit Salazar, who had just obtained his release from the penitentiary at Chihuahua City said here today that the execution of Villa sympathizers took place before the window of his cell and that from five to twenty prisoners had been shot to death there daily since Sept. 16th, when Villa made his surprise attack on Chihuahua City.

DEFENDS MEXICAN POLICY.

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 16.—Secretary of War Baker, addressing a Democratic mass meeting here tonight defended the Mexican policy of the Wilson administration and declared the president deserved praise for his preparedness program.

"We have learned a good deal about war," asserted the secretary, "but fortunately by observation."

PASSED STATE EXAMINATION.

Miss Florence Blackburn, of the public library staff, has received word from Springfield that she recently passed a state examination for registry clerk. According to announcement by the civil service commission, Miss Blackburn stood highest among those who took the test.

REVIEW DREAM OF THE LATE JAMES J. HILL

Officials of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington Tell of Working Relations of the Three Systems.

St. Paul, Oct. 16.—Officials of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington railway companies today told of the working relations of the three systems and reviewed the dream of the late James J. Hill which was shattered by the United States supreme court in 1901 when he attempted a merger of the three roads in testifying in the Ramsey district court in the suit brought by the county to collect $2,030,000 alleged delinquent personal taxes of the railway companies.

President L. W. Hill of the Great Northern spent the day in court listening to the proceedings.

In pointing out the necessity for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific having control of the Burlington, W. P. Kenney, vice president of the Great Northern said that as a result of the development of the Great Northern by the Hill interest it was imperative that a market outlet to the east be procured. The Burlington, which touches the richest country between St. Paul, Chicago and St. Louis is the road, Mr. Kenney said, that gives a valuable outlet to the east.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

MARSHALL SPEAKS IN COLUMBUS.

Columbus, O., Oct. 16.—America thought at present is undergoing recrystallization as in 1861, party issues are broken and new alignments are being formed by voters, with social and industrial justice as the great object, Vice-president Thomas R. Marshall said in speech here tonight before a large audience at the Franklin County Democratic club.

TROOPS REACH BORDER.

MRS. SARAH SHORT DIED IN FITCHBURG MONDAY

End Came After A Long Illness—
Deceased As Wife of Late Dr. W. F. Short Was Prominent in Illinois Methodism for Fifty Years.

A message to Mrs. Edward C. Lambert last evening brought word of the passing from life to life eternal of her mother, Mrs. Sarah B. Short, from the home of her youngest daughter, Mrs. Julian S. Wadsworth, in Fitchburg, Mass., where she has spent the last few years.

Mrs. Short was the wife of the late Dr. Wm. F. Short and with him was identified with the religious and educational life of this community for nearly fifty years beginning with Dr. Short's pastorate of Grace church in 1868 and through his services as presiding elder of the Jacksonville district, president of Illinois Woman's college, and superintendent of the School for the Blind. Through the years of her husband's pastorate work Mrs. Short taught in Sunday schools and took an active interest in the missionary societies and social life of the church. She delighted in extending hospitality and wherever her home might be she was a cordial and gracious hostess. It was in the grave of a home-maker for family, pupils and friends that she found and bestowed happiness. She was a constant reader, but most enjoyed conversation with friends when her keen sense of humor and ready response made her companionship a mutual pleasure.

Sarah B. Laning was born in Zanesville, Ohio, the daughter of Hannah and Jacob Holcomb Laning. When a child she came with her parents to Petersburg. There she was married in 1854 to Rev. W. F. Short and went with him to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, where he was principal of a seminary for girls. There she entered into his work as one of the teachers in the school. Returning to Illinois before the outbreak of the war, Dr. Short resumed his pastoral work in Illinois conference and within its bounds passed the remainder of his life. While under the annual appointment of the conference he and Mrs. Short had an unusual experience in ministerial life in that nearly all these years were spent in Jacksonville.

Surviving Mrs. Short are three daughters: Mrs. E. C. Lambert of this city; Mrs. John Duke Waller, of Oak Park; Mrs. Julian S. Wadsworth of Fitchburg, Mass., and Mrs. Louise Short, widow of her son. There are also six granddaughters and one grandson, four great-grandsons and three great-granddaughters surviving. One great-granddaughter died in infancy. Two sons, Edward and William, beside her husband have preceded her in death. Mr. T. P. Laning of this place, Mr. Edward Laning and Mr. C. J. Laning of Petersburg are her brothers. Rev. and Mrs. Julian Wadsworth are expected here Thursday afternoon, accompanying Mrs. Short's remains. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery and the time of the service will be announced later.

MANY THEMES DISCUSSED AT LIBRARY CONVENTION

Many themes bearing upon the advancement of library science and practice were discussed at the convention of the Illinois state convention, held in Ottawa and attended by Miss Lydia M. Barrette, public librarian here. "What Libraries are doing with Regard Questions of Public Health," was the topic of a paper by Miss Barrette, based upon letters of inquiry sent to the libraries over the state. Co-operation with school authorities and children's library work were among the questions considered. The example of Austin, Ill., was set forth, where high school authorities furnish the room and facilities and the library gives aid by the loaning and selection of books.

At Galesburg there was recently established a municipal reference library, supported by special appropriation. This library is proving a valuable aid to city commissioners and other officials and the experiment is being watched with interest by other progressive municipalities.

CONCERT BY MR. WERRENATH

Music lovers are looking forward with much pleasure to the concert by Reinold Werrenath, baritone, to be given at the Grand Wednesday evening, Nov. 16. Mr. Werrenath comes with a reputation of being one of the best singers now appearing in concert. It is said of him that he can sing all kinds of songs well and for that reason his program covers a wide range of composers. Harry Spier, a young New York pianist, will be accompanist for Mr. Werrenath. He is said to be one of the best accompanists now appearing on the concert stage. The concert will be given under the direction of Robert M. Boyd and promises to be one of the musical treats of the season.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HAS WIRE CUTTER

The fire department has been equipped with an insulated wire cutter for cutting live wires. Frequently during storms wires become short circuited. It is a difficult and dangerous matter to cut them. With the new cutter the work can be done with little or no danger as the handles are heavily insulated.

Bert Waggoner of Philadelphia was attending to business in the city yesterday.

LAYS FAULTS TO PORK BARREL SENTIMENT

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 16.—The faults of the national reclamation act of 1902 were not due to ignorance but were the result of compromises with the pork barrel sentiment. Arthur P. Davis, director and chief engineer of the reclamation service, told the delegates of the International Irrigation Congress here today. Mr. Davis characterized the influence of a "pork barrel" policy upon the farm unit plan as insidious and one which allowed the farm unit to be left so large that it became a handicap to the farmer in making payments and needed improvements. He said the reclamation service would be unable to take up new projects for some years unless the reclamation fund can be replenished or other means of financing these projects be devised. A Mexican band sent to the irrigation congress by the Mexican government played American and Mexican national airs while the crowd stood.

CONOVER-ROBERTSON WEDDING AT VIRGINIA

Ceremony Uniting Well Known Cass County Young People Said at the Home of Bride's Mother.

Virginia, Ill., Oct. 16.—The home of Mrs. Virginia Conover on East Beardstown street was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday evening when Mr. Frank Matthew Robertson, the youngest son of Mr. T. J. Robertson, a retired banker of this city, and Miss Louise Virginia Conover were united in marriage. Rev. Geo. Lenington of the Dutch Reformed Church at Staten Island, N. Y., officiating.

It was a quiet wedding and only very near relatives and a few friends were present.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. Wm. Gerry of Aurora as best man and Miss Le Edda Campbell of this city as bridesmaid. Mesdames George Conover of Springfield and Virgil Matthews of Chicago were matrons of honor. Little Jane Conover, niece of the bride was flower girl.

The bride was beautifully gowned in a three piece suit consisting of a white panne velvet skirt, a beautiful lace waist and a silver embroidered jacket with lace hat to match and carried pink Killarney roses.

The attendants wore white satin gowns and black hats and carried American Beauty roses.

The John Taylor orchestra of Springfield furnished the music for wedding and the reception that followed. A two course turkey dinner was served immediately after the ceremony.

Mr. Robertson is employed in the Farmers' National bank in this city as assistant cashier, both he and his bride were reared in this city. After returning from an extended eastern trip of several weeks duration they will be at home in the Robertson home in this city to their many friends.

LOCAL DOKAYS WON HONORS AT DECATUR

MCCARTY'S ARABS GIVEN FIRST PRIZE IN DRILL CONTEST

Peoria Team a Close Second—Big Delegation of Pythians Went to Grand Lodge Opening Session—John J. Reeve Becomes Grand Chancellor Today.

A despatch sent to the Journal by Jewell E. Scott Monday night from Decatur brought the good news that McCarthy's Arabs had carried off first honors in the drill contest with Peoria a close second. Jacksonville in the marking of the judges received 92 per cent and Peoria 91 1/2. It is therefore quite evident that the judges had no easy task in making up their decision.

In some of the previous contests in which the Jacksonville Dokays have taken part in the drills there has been a feeling that deserved honors were not awarded, but the members of the team always came home in good spirits and their enthusiasm and interest in the work has not waned. The team has taken a prominent part in many local entertainment programs and has thus made very substantial contributions to the interest of a variety of entertainments. So there was general rejoicing last night, not only among the members of the order but their outside friends as well, that the "Arabs" had finally come into their own and had secured the $250 prize offered.

Special Train Monday

The special train which left Jacksonville for Decatur over the Washburn Monday morning carried about 100 Pythians. Jeffries band accompanied them and as the train pulled out for the grand lodge sessions the band played a lively air. As mentioned in a previous issue of the Journal, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reeve and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Claus left for Decatur Sunday. Today Mr. Reeve will be advanced from the position of vice grand chancellor to grand chancellor and will enter upon his duties when the present grand lodge sessions adjourn. Mr. Claus is the official representative of Favorite Lodge No. 376 and John Seibert is the representative of Jacksonville lodge No. 152.

Mr. Reeve is the second Jacksonville citizen to become grand chancellor and he is following in the footsteps of the late Judge Charles A. Barnes. There are many members of the order who believe that Mr. Reeve will follow further in the way taken by Judge Barnes and at some future time become the supreme chancellor of the world.

FROM A TREE OF HIS PLANTING

Four years ago F. L. Sharpe of this city was traveling in southern California and while there called on his friend, H. M. Tinknor, formerly of this city and now a prominent attorney of Pasadena. Mr. Tinknor took his guest home with him and there showed him quite a good sized garden and requested Mr. Sharpe to plant a tree with his own hands which was done, and yesterday Mr. Sharpe received from Mr. Tinknor a box of delicious figs grown on the tree he planted four years ago. Mr. Tinknor has a beautiful home in Pasadena and takes pride and pleasure in entertaining his friends from Jacksonville.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS DESTROYS DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy and Beautiful—Try This!

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scuff.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Adv.

FARM THEMES

HOW PUBLIC MAY GET

WEEK'S SHORT COURSE

Extension Service of College of Agriculture Carries Information to Public.

"The extension service of the College of Agriculture of the University of Illinois represents an organized effort on the part of the College to carry the teachings of the college and the result of the work of the experiment station (also reliable information gathered from other available sources) to the people of the state, for the purpose of building up the agricultural and rural life of the commonwealth," states Prof. Nolan of that department. One successful field of extension service is the one-week agricultural short course. For these schools the University sends into the community from two to five instructors, and systematic daily lectures and demonstration work are given along lines of practical agriculture and farm management. The communities where short courses are to be given must be ready for such schools, the people must want them, and must be willing to work with the College for the extension of agricultural and rural education.

I. To obtain the co-operation of the University in a week's short course, these conditions must be fulfilled:

1. The people of the community must be deeply interested in the short course and must be willing to work to make it a success.

2. They must guarantee the finances of the short course, and a regular attendance justifying the school.

3. Suitable rooms must be available for class work, grain and stock-judging, domestic science demonstrations, and evening lectures.

4. Farmers and business men of the town must co-operate in the management of the course. Commercial clubs, women's clubs, schools and farmers' organizations should pull together and work in absolute harmony for the best results. The short course should be dated to avoid all other community meetings in so far as possible.

II. To conduct the necessary business of a short course, there should be a definite organization under whose auspices the course is held, an executive committee, with sub-committees is suggested.

III. Character of a Week's Short Course. The major work in most of the communities of the state for this year will include animal husbandry, crops and soils, with additional special lectures along such lines as poultry, dairying, horticulture, farm machinery, farm power plant, silo construction, general concrete work, road building, farm management, and such subjects as may be selected by the local committees. One or two of these lectures may be secured, in addition to the two or three men making up the regular instructors in the short course crew for the week.

IV. Three things are absolutely essential to a successful short course.

1. Good officers and good committees, made up of the most progressive and successful men of the community.

2. Personal advertising. This can best be done by the local leaders driving thru the country and talking personally with each man, and by liberal use of the telephone in addition.

3. Good instruction. The College appreciates its responsibility at this point, and pledges its best efforts in securing first-class men as long as they are available.

Hemp Stalk Fragments for Paper Making

Possibilities of this Waste Material Investigated by Government Specialists

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16—That a satisfactory quality of book paper can be made from hemp hurds, the waste stalk fragments produced in preparing hemp fiber for market, is a conclusion reached by specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a result of commercial tests made in cooperation with a paper manufacturer. The experiments and the economic conditions surrounding the use of hemp hurds as a paper-making material are described in a new professional paper of the Department of Agriculture, Bulletin 404.

The investigations demonstrated that the hurds can be reduced chemically to paper stock by the soda process under practices little different from those employed for the manufacture of pulp from poplar wood. Slightly more bleach was necessary, and beating was found desirable for a somewhat longer period. As against these items of increased expense in comparison with poplar wood as a raw material, the first preparation of the hurds at the mill is less expensive. It is necessary only to sieve the latter, while the wood must be chipped with expensive machinery. Storage possibly would be more expensive for hurds, as storing in the open—the method employed for wood—probably would be impracticable.

Because of the lightness of the hurds, charges of this material in the digesting chamber must be smaller than charges of poplar wood. The experiments showed that the weights of the charges ran about 60.5 per cent of the weight of poplar wood charges. The total yield of air-dry fiber from hurds was 33.1 per cent as compared with about 47 per cent of air-dry fiber from poplar wood.

Hemp is now grown in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, and California. In Kentucky, however, the fiber is separated from the stalks by hand brakes moved about the fields, and the hurds, therefore, are so scattered that their use for paper making is not economically practicable. It is only in the other states named, where large machine brakes are employed and the hurds are deposited in stacks, that the waste may be drawn upon practically as a paper-making material. About 5,000 tons of hurds are produced each year in the machine braking districts. This is an insufficient supply of the material to warrant the erection of a pulp mill or even to justify transportation to existing mills, but it is expected that the available tonnage will increase, because of the extension of hemp growing and increasing use of machine brakes.

Iowa's Golden Harvest.

Iowa will produce 373,000,000 bushels of corn this year, according to the forecast of the government bureau of crop estimates. This will be about 14 per cent of the entire corn crop of the United States. At an average price of 4 cents a bushel, the pay roll for the husking of the mammoth crop will be $93,250,000. The value of the crop at present market prices is $287,210,000, compared with $215,120,000 last year. This means that if every man, woman and child received their share of the worth of the 1916 corn crop in the state, they would get $140, as compared with a little more than $100 a year ago.

PRICES OF MEAT ANIMALS

Averages Based on Reports of Several Thousands Correspondents.

The prices of meat animals—hogs, cattle, sheep and chickens—to producers of the United States increased 4.1 per cent from August 15 to September 15; in the past six years prices increased in like period 0.9 per cent. On September 15 the index figure of prices for these meat animals was about 23.7 per cent higher than a year ago, 10.5 per

BRADLEY TO MEET MILLIKIN THIS WEEK

Comparative Scores Indicate Millikin is a Shade the Best.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 16.—Only one game with a bearing on the Illinois Minor College football championship is scheduled in the Little Nineteen conference this week.

This is the contest at Decatur between Bradley Institute of Peoria and Millikin University. Neither team has met defeat but comparative scores indicate that Millikin is a shade the best.

There are only three other undefeated teams in the conference—Illinois College of Jacksonville, Eureka and St. Viators.

The decisive victory of Illinois College over Lombard of Galesburg last week puts Coach Harmon's men in direct line to win their second straight football championship.

They meet Millikin on Nov. 11th, in a game that may have much to do toward determining the 1916 race.

Games between Illinois Wesleyan and Lombard at Bloomington; Eureka and Western Normal at Macomb are others of importance this week.

THOUSANDS WATCH

ATHLETIC GAMES

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 16.—via London—

Twelve thousand people gathered today to witness the games in which a group of star American athletes competed against representatives of the Scandinavian countries.

The principal event was the 1,000 metres run in which Zander and Bolin, Swedes, equalled the world's record of two minutes, 31 2-10 seconds, finishing abreast well ahead of Ted Meredith, former American quarter mile champion, who on Saturday won the 400 metres dash in fast time. Meredith's time today was 2:38 7-10.

Bob Simpson, an American sprinter, won the 110 metre hurdles in 14 3-10 seconds which surpasses the Olympic record by one fifth of a second.

The American team won the relay race.

When the parting of the ways came in 1914 Slatin found his love for Austria was still strong altho most of his life had been devoted to Britain and her wards in Egypt. He had become essentially a part of the English military machine. But he could not fight against his fatherland, nor could he serve in any way against the country which had meant so much to him and which had lavished honors upon him.

So Slatin regretfully met the issue. He resigned his English and Egyptian commissions, sheathed the sword which had been part of his very life, and passed into comparative obscurity in the very midst of war. Slatin felt, however, there was one service he could render with all propriety. He returned to Vienna, attached himself to the Austrian Red Cross and now is doing all he can to better the condition of prisoners of war, not alone in his own country but as part of a plan to bring about reciprocal agreements among all the nations in arms. Slatin suffered sufficiently himself as a prisoner in the Sudan and has the widest possible sympathy with any sort of captive.

It so happens that this very unique personality of the war now has come into more or less direct relationship with America. His mission in Stockholm was to meet here a representative of the American Embassy in Petrograd to discuss further means of relief for the hundreds of thousands of Austrian war prisoners now in Russia, as well as the immense colonies of Austrian civilians interned in various sections of the big northern empire. The Austrian government, he said, was ready and anxious to co-operate in any possible way to better the condition of prisoners generally and would gladly reciprocate for anything Russia might do. He expressed the appreciation of the Austrian government for the relief work already accomplished under the direction of the American Embassy at Petrograd. Slatin, who devoted his life to militarism, speaks now of war only from the standpoint of humanity.

"I would like so much to be able to say when it is all over that I had done something to help the sufferers in this tremendous war," he said wistfully to a correspondent of the Associated Press.

"We Austrians, you know," he added rather significantly "have not much hate in our make-up. I think a great deal of the ill-feeling in the war has been engendered by the exaggerations and bitter words printed constantly in the belligerent press. The newspapers do not give the people a chance for sober thought or reflection. But I am not one of those who believe that hatred thus fostered, will continue long after peace is declared.

"As one of the softening or ameliorating influences likely to hasten a return of good feeling, I believe that kindly treatment of prisoners of war is of paramount importance. I should like to see a policy of exchange adopted as far as possible. In this way men who had been well treated, would return to their native land and bring word to the people at home that perhaps the enemy was not so black as he had been painted after all, that he had some kindly traits, was a human being and that the world might still be large enough for all of us to live in.

"I do not believe we can go on fighting forever—I mean either at arms or thru a so-called boycott. I do not believe the world at large will approve boycott methods. I do not believe this spirit of enmity can last. It must burn itself out in its own fire. Take in the case of your own American Civil War. What struggle between man and man could have been more bitter than that? Take the Fashoda incident between France and England. People are quick to forget and perhaps to forgive, if only they have the chance to do it.

"We believe Russia is doing the best she can for our prisoners," he said, "but the task at times has been too great for the facilities at her disposal. There is especially the matter of medical supplies and proper clothing. And then, too, one must consider in the treatment of prisoners their former environment and mode of living. We think we rather spoil our soldiers in Austria as a rule, so that our prisoners even though treated with the identical consideration shown a Russian soldier in his own barracks, will feel certain undeniable hardships. On the other hand England makes more of a fuss over her soldier than we do over ours, so a British Tommy Atkins in an Austrian camp would feel as badly treated as some of our men do in Russia. It is all a matter of degree."

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 16.—There came to Stockholm a little while ago one of the distinctly unique personalities of the great world war—a man who had lived by the sword almost from boyhood, but who in the sudden turn of events in 1914 found himself, not a man without a country, but a man with two countries—two countries arrayed against each other in the bitterest of all world combats.

He had served under the Austrian Crown Prince and has been aide to Kitchener of Khartoum. He had gone into Egypt when Kitchener was there as a lowly subaltern. For twelve years he was a prisoner of the fanatical Mahdi, and the wild Dervish tribes who threw back, for the first time in centuries, the ever advancing frontier of civilization. Escaping from the clutches of the barbarians he won the opportunity of participating in that remarkable march across the desert and the wonderful campaign along the upper reaches of the Nile which brought civilization back to the Sudan and won for Kitchener his first great fame.

He came to Stockholm from Vienna unannounced and to all intents and purposes "incog." There are few who recognized him as Rudolf Carl von Slatin, baron of the Austrian Empire, Pasha of Egypt, lieutenant general of the Egyptian army, major general of the British army, and six times the recipient of the coveted British orders, from Companion of the Bath to Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, all won by distinguished service. He was Inspector General of the Egyptian Forces under General Sir Francis Wingate when the crash of war in 1914 brought a new crisis in his already eventful life.

When the parting of the ways came in 1914 Slatin found his love for Austria was still strong altho most of his life had been devoted to Britain and her wards in Egypt. He had become essentially a part of the English military machine. But he could not fight against his fatherland, nor could he serve in any way against the country which had meant so much to him and which had lavished honors upon him.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Miss Ida M. Parker, a Wellesley college graduate of the class of 1906 has been sworn in as a policeman—or rather a policewoman—of the town of Brookline, Mass., with the full authorities and duties of a patrolman. Miss Parker is said to be the only college policewoman in the United States. Her salary is $125 a month. Only one other community in Massachusetts, the city of Haverhill, has a woman police officer.

Sarah Bernhardt at 71 appearing in a play written by her own granddaughter is supposed to establish a "record" hitherto unknown on the stage. This play is entitled "L'ame d'elles" and is the work of Mlle. Lylane Bernhardt, the daughter of Maurice Bernhardt, son of the famous tragedienne and a successful Parisian lawyer, who was born when she was only seventeen years old. A further unique "record" established by the divine Sarah on her projected American tour, which opens this week at Montreal, is that her great granddaughter accompanies her on the trip, this being the daughter of Mme. Maurice Gros, a sister of Mlle. Lylane Bernhardt. A play by a granddaughter and a great-granddaughter as a mascot is something new in stage annals, much as certain illustrious tragediennes have accustomed us to "eternal youth."

Miss Meta Pemberton of Gadsden, Ala., is state champion for putting up United States mail, and the postmaster of Talladega in the same state is sorry he spoke. Last month he challenged all persons connected with the putting up of mail to accomplish it in less time than it took him. Miss Pemberton accepted the challenge and beat the challenger by two and one-half minutes.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney of New York, who designed the Titanic Memorial which is to be set up in Washington, has had a notable career as a sculptress. Mrs. Whitney was Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, when she was married in her teens to Harry Payne Whitney, son of the Hon. William Collins Whitney, at one time Secretary of State, in New York in 1896. Though intended by birth and fortune for leadership in a purely social career, Mrs. Whitney has for the last twenty years worked at her art with the same unremitting industry as any struggling artist, and at less than forty years of age finds herself hailed as one of the notable sculptors of America. She has likewise been noted for the intelligent and sympathetic aid she has generously given to artists less fortunate than herself in this world's toils, and yearly offers prizes in competitions among struggling artists. The Titanic memorial, which has been described as a design of moving inspiration, represents a man with outstretched arms and is supposed to typify the calm courage and resignation which characterized those men who remained behind on the sinking of the vessel in order that the women and children might be saved in the lifeboats.

Dr. Maria Montessori, the famous Italian educator, who is on her way to New York to open the Montessori Normal College, where her teaching theories will be taught and the only school of its kind in America, is the first woman to whom the degree of Doctor of Medicine was granted by the University of Rome, where she became in time assistant doctor in the clinic of Psychiatry. She took special interest in the mentally deficient, and her lectures on this subject led to the foundation of the Seniole Ortofenica for feeble-minded children, of which she was directress from 1898 to 1900. She studied at the University of Rome, particularly the psychology of childhood, and lectured on pedagogical anthropology at the University of Rome for seven years from 1900 to 1907. She gained further knowledge in childhood psychology in the control of some tenement infant schools in Rome, till some ten years ago the new system of teaching invented by her as a result of her long years of study of the child mind became rounded out and perfected and began to be investigated and studied with deep interest in the educational circles of all civilized countries.

BIG FIELD DEMONSTRATION

To Study Corn Improvement Work

The Soil and Crop Improvement Association has just completed arrangements for a big field demonstration on the Illinois State Reformatory School farm, adjacent to city of Pontiac, to be held Wednesday, October 25, beginning at 1 p. m. The object of this demonstration is to study results of corn improvement work which the Association started on the State Farm last spring. Sixteen different strains of corn were obtained, largely from the best improved corn to be found in the country. A few samples were obtained from big corn breeders. Eight rows of corn, 80 rods long, in parallel plots, were planted with each of these strains. In this way the Association has put these prominent strains of corn on a performance test, under same conditions, to determine the highest yielding strain, the best producer of quality, corn that will lodge the least, develop the smallest per cent of barren stalks, and that will produce the most sturdy stalks and best stand.

Four rows of each plot of corn will be husked out on the afternoon of the demonstration, by a team of four men. There will therefore be 16 teams in the field at one time, 64 men husking in a contest. All corn is to be carefully weighed, and placards will be put up, giving data on each plot, as to barren, and fall-stalks, size of stalks, and yield.

When this field is finished, an ear to the row improvement plot will be inspected; data as indicated above will be found on placards placed at the end of each row. The corn will be piled at end of each row, where it may be seen, also, and yield of each row will be given. In this work, kernels from a single ear are planted in rows to themselves, each ear to a row. Thus the characteristics of the corn under study is easily detected. A variation of over 50 per cent in yield will be seen on this field, and a variation of 75 per cent in number of fallen stalks.

These results are of tremendous importance to the corn producers of the county, all of whom are invited and urged to see these remarkable truths. The afternoon will be one of gripping interest and great value. The fun will be unbounded; did you ever see 64 men in a husking contest? See this one, James Mann, one of the contestants, says he can keep three ears in the air all of the time, while husking. Some one will have to go some to prevent Mr. Mann from winning the washing machine.

Arbitration

is the twentieth century
means of settling disputes.

In time, Arbitration should supplant war in deciding differences between great nations. Acceptance of the principle of Arbitration will render great industrial strikes impossible—and even minor differences will come to be settled by this means. Impartial judges can be counted upon to render fair decisions.

To impartial judges of roofing, we will always be willing to leave decision as to the comparative merits of roofings, confident that intelligent investigation will result in a decision for

Certain-teed
Roofing

An investigation into methods of manufacturing would show that only the best quality of roofing felts is used in CERTAIN-TEED roofing. This is thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalt—the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which forms an impervious coating and prevents the inner saturation from drying out.

This explains why CERTAIN-TEED outlives ordinary roofing, and why it is possible to guarantee it for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). The responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers is behind this guarantee; which is conservative, as experience proves that CERTAIN-TEED outlives the period of guarantee.

The General makes one third of America's supply of asphalt roll roofing. His facilities are unequalled, and he is able to produce the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in a slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

History of Joy Prairie Congregational Church

The Joy Prairie Congregational church as it is today, is one of the evidences of the ever changing life and conditions in this land. Organized in 1845 it has been a grand power for good in many ways. The never large in numbers for years the church gave more gross money to foreign missions than any other church in the association and some were larger in numbers and much greater in means.

In 1845 the locality where now is the village of Concord was without a church and there was none within a radius of three miles so that the devout ones felt there should be some kind of a religious organization in their midst. At that time Rev. W. H. Williams was at the head of the Jacksonville Female Academy and with his saving acquired a farm in the vicinity. He was a scholarly man, a fine preacher and cultured gentleman but not an organizer and he saw the need of a church he was not the one to organize it but Providence filled the need. Rev. Bilius Pond, general missionary in the employ of the American Home Missionary society, visited friends in the place and was made aware of the need of a church. He was a born organizer and went to work with zeal and discretion to gather together those who would undertake to organize a church in the place. He succeeded well and with Mr. Williams the work went successfully forward, each the complement of the other. Eighteen persons were found ready to organize a union church. They represented different bodies as follows: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Fry and four daughters, Mrs. Boggs, Mrs. Parker, Misses Martha and Louise Fry, Cumberland Presbyterians; Mr. and Mrs. George Purkitt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel French and Mr. Bowman, Congregationalists; Messrs. A. K. Barber, Carlisle and Prevost, Presbyterians; Mrs. Prevost, Episcopalian; three on profession, Miss Elaphal Ellis, James Ellis, Sr., and Miss Charlotte Prevost.

A meeting of these was called at the home of Mr. Barber, Feb. 1845, for the purpose of organizing. First a sermon was delivered by Mr. Williams and then a business meeting followed with Mr. Fry in the chair. As there were so many different denominations represented it was but natural that some one be chosen for the affiliation of the body and a vote showed a majority in favor of the Presbyterians but later, two or three years, it was decided to select the Congregational as the denomination for affiliation and the spirit thus manifested caused Samuel French to suggest the name of Concord as a local designation which was adopted and that and the fact that Concord, New Hampshire, was the home of Mrs. Samuel French gave the name to the village which subsequently grew up around the cross roads, where the church was located.

When the church was formally organized only five were ready to enter into covenant, Messrs. Prevost, Barber, Carlisle and Mrs. Purkitt. Messrs. Barber and Purkitt were chosen elders for three years and the organization was completed. A week later at a meeting of the session with Rev. Bilius Pond acting as moderator, A. Bowman and Mrs. J. Prevost were received by letter and James Ellis, Sr., and Miss Elaphal Ellis by profession and in the fall following all the Fry family except the father and Miss Charlotte Prevost on profession. Rev. Mr. Williams preached for them every other Sunday for a year and a good part of the time during the second year, receiving but small compensation for his services.

Early in the year two families moved into the neighborhood, one named Shaw and one Fairbank, and they at once identified themselves with the young church and gave it a tremendous impetus. Up to that time services had been held at residences or school houses and where-ever opportunity offered but a church building was soon discussed and undertaken. Those people were taught to give and the sum of $600 was subscribed which in those days when everything a farmer raised brought so little cash was a great sum and represented effort and self denial of no small amount.

Mr. Fairbank had four sons, James C., David Wilder, John B. Jr., and Edward B., the latter a child of five, rather delicate and who died in 1863. The senior Fairbank took the contract for building the church and it was completed and dedicated in November and while the $600 was paid by no means met the cost of the building but the contractor went ahead with the help of a Godly man, Henry Irving of Jacksonville, who did the carpenter work for less than ordinary day wages; the material was furnished but no one except the Master knew what it cost Mr. Fairbank.

An interesting story is told of this gentleman in his later years.

At a church meeting subscriptions for the ensuing year had been taken and the question of the employment of a minister came up. Mr. Fairbank was rather strongly opposed to one candidate but the latter received a majority of the votes and was declared the pastor for the ensuing year and instead of putting in a corner or staying away from church Mr. Fairbank arose and addressing the chair said he would increase his subscription a substantial amount.

The church was for those days a grand affair and caused the hearts of the little band to swell with honest pride. The dedicatory sermon was preached by President Stuart, while Pastor Williams presided. On that occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel French, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fairbank and three adult sons were received into the church. During the year Mrs. A. K. Barber had been received by letter and Mrs. Elizabeth Rahm by profession while Mrs. Fry had died so that the church then numbered 25. In the afternoon the communion of the Lord's Supper was observed and the services wound up with "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow" sung with a will.

Not long after a small beginning of a town was noted. D. W. Fairbank built a small store in one corner of the crossroads and a blacksmith shop followed and naturally the name Concord was given the place.

A settled pastor was much desired but finances would hardly admit it till midsummer of 1847 when Rev. A. Alvord came and his salary was helped out by a private school taught by his accomplished and devoted wife, who used the church for her purpose and while they remained but fifteen months their impress on the community lasted much longer.

In 1848 the services of Rev. J. M. Grout, a recognized evangelist were secured and a greater spiritual outpouring followed with a number of accessions. Seventeen young people, largely from Mrs. Alvord's school, united with the church and it was quite strong.

In Nov. 1848 the question of changing from the Presbyterian to the Congregational denomination was brought up and the change was made with but one dissenting voice and with the best of feeling and James B. Fairbank, George T. Purkitt and Jos. Shaw were chosen deacons. Up to this time fifty had been brought into the church, 22 on profession and 28 by letter while two had died and two removed by letter, of the fifty but one, Mrs. Woodward, remained at the fiftieth anniversary. Mr. Grout was earnestly desired as pastor and took the place somewhat reluctantly but did grand work for two years when he resigned and left with the good will of all.

Rev. E. H. Gilbert, a young man, was called and with his bride came to the place winning the love and esteem of all. He went bravely to work and a parsonage was erected for him and for a while the cost of the structure hung a black cloud of debt over the church till by heroic efforts it was paid. Unfortunately the young pastor's health wholly failed and he had to give up.

The story all along here is fascinating but must not be too long drawn out. The names of Joy, Moody, Pratt and True became prominent and till away past ninety the saintly Deacon Julius Pratt continued a staunch supporter of the church while the Joy family were a host in themselves. In the spring of 1853 Rev. W. E. Catlin was called to the pastorate. President Struven preached the dedication sermon and Rev. Thomas Lippincott, father of J. P. Lippincott of this city, made the ordaining prayer. Later Rev. W. H. Collins, editor of the Morgan Journal, was chosen pastor. The gentleman was afterward a prominent manufacturer in Quincy. Then Prof. Rufus Nutting, instructor in Illinois College did excellent work as pastor.

Jan. 4, 1864, the question of a new church was raised and on motion of D. W. Fairbank, Deacons J. B. Fairbank and J. F. Pratt were made a committee to investigate the matter and report at a subsequent meeting whether it was advisable to erect a new church edifice or not.

The meeting was held Feb. first when the matter was decided and a committee was appointed to locate the structure and prepare plans and report at an adjourned meeting. Trustees Benjamin Sawyer, Alfred Williams, J. C. Fairbank were made a committee to dispose of the church property and parsonage. March 7th it was voted to accept the offer of Alfred Williams to locate the church on his property opposite his residence, two miles south of Concord, and Messrs. J. F. Pratt, J. C. Fairbank and L. F. Joy were made a building committee with power to locate and build the church. Deacon J. B. Fairbank was made a committee on subscriptions. The Centerville Baptist church, a mile south, was kindly offered for the use of the congregation while the church was being built. The contract for the building was let to Henry Irving of Jacksonville, the one who had so unselfishly worked on the first building, and in February, 1865, the edifice was ready for use and a pleasing fact connected with it the way the contractor was treated. Ascertaining that he had sustained a loss of five hundred dollars the sum was raised and paid him without his request.

Willard Blodgett, Horace Chapin and D. W. Fairbank were made a committee on pulpits supply and Rev. E. B. Tutthill was chosen pastor. The parsonage was erected and to it the pastor took his bride. The church was dedicated on Feb. 16th, 1865. The Rev. W. A. Chamberlain, then of Beardstown, delivering the sermon and Rev. Rufus Nutting offering the dedicatory prayer. It was a time of great rejoicing as there were added to the church four new families, those of John P. Joy, Lyman F. Joy and Samuel Parsons who transferred from the church at Jacksonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cowdin and their sons on profession. James F. Joy of Detroit, brother of John P. Joy, presented the beautiful pulpit cushion so much prized. Alfred Williams, J. C. Fairbank and Lyman F. Joy were chosen trustees and served nearly twenty years, when Lyman W. True took the place of Mr. Fairbank and he was followed by J. B. Williams. Later the board consisted of Lyman L. Pratt, Richard P. Joy and Arthur C. Williams. Later on a parlor and basement kitchen were added to the church and it was indeed a model structure.

Pages more might be written of the religious, social and mission work of this church but the story is already long enough. Its roll of members contains some names of persons who have been a great force for good, many of whom went forth to other fields of usefulness, and have left a glorious record. Many names are suggested but it will not do to undertake an enumeration. Death and removal have decimated the membership most sadly and no wit is not deemed practicable to maintain preaching services the the Sunday school is kept up. The following is a list of the ministers during the history of the church.

Declared Guilty of Wife Murder—Alton Ahrling has been found guilty in the Jersey county circuit court of killing his wife, and was sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. The dismembered body of Mrs. Ahrling was found in the burned ruins of their home and Ahrling was subsequently arrested, and told incoherent stories about a suicide pact.

Met After Fifty Years—A reunion of a father and daughter after a separation of fifty years has just been recorded from Decatur. Albert C. Bottoms returned to Bowling Green at the close of the Civil War and found that his wife had died and that the little girl he had left behind when he went to war was gone and no one knew where. It seems that the child was placed with a family after the mother's death and went with them to Illinois. The foster parents did not tell the child anything about her parentage for many years. Recently it occurred to Mrs. M. H. Roberts, the little girl in the story, that her father if living might be located thru the pension bureau and it was in this manner that the father, who is ninety one years of age, was found. Mrs. Roberts has just returned from a visit with her father.

Found Dead on Track—Harold Arnold, a farmer, was found dead on the interurban track not far from Lincoln with his skull crushed. It is believed that the man was murdered and his body was subsequently placed on the track to divert suspicion. Omar Pearson has been arrested altho he maintains his innocence. The charge against Pearson is based on the fact that he and the dead man engaged in a fight in the railway station a short time before the dead body was found.

Killed by Train—Louis Sparrow was killed Sunday night near Delevan by an Illinois Central freight. His body was found scattered along the tracks near the freight house. Deceased was about 55 years old and was born and reared in that vicinity.

ALTON BUYS RAILS

AND BOX CARS

The Alton railroad has just placed an order for 3,000 tons of steel rail which makes the total for the year 12,000 tons said to be the largest order placed by the road since the rays of President Felton. At the present price of steel the total expense for rails this year is about $400,000. About fifty miles of the new steel will go to the western division, fourteen tons to the northern division and twenty five to the southern. All the steel is of the 90 lb. weight as that has been found most satisfactory.

President Beard of the Alton has also placed an additional order for 200 automobile box cars. Previously an order for 150 cars was placed but the increasing number of automobile shipments has made the demand for this equipment imperative. While these cars are especially for motor shipments, they are also used for the movement of grain.

WHEAT REACTS AFTER EARLY FALLING OFF

Close is Unsettled at 1/2 to 3/4 of a Cent when the final gong brought tradingulators Depresses Corn.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Bullish foreign conditions, including a decided fall-off in world shipments, made wheat prices range higher today, although a liberal increase of the United States visible supply total brought about something of a reaction late in the day. The close was unsettled at 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent net advance with December and May both 1/2-3/4.

Corn finished 1/4¢ down, and oats off 1/2 to 3/4. Provisions scored

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD OPENS AT SPRINGFIELD

Historical Program to Commemorate Hundredth Anniversary—Pageant Will Be Feature.

Dr. A. B. Morey and Mr. Enslay Moore, who were elected delegates to the Presbyterian synod, will go to Springfield tonight. They will represent the Springfield presbytery. The centennial synod of the church will be in session today, Wednesday and Thursday. The opening session will be at the Second Presbyterian church this evening, when the retiring moderator, Rev. W. H. Penhallegon of Decatur, will preach a sermon.

The general business session will be held Wednesday and Thursday afternoon there will be a historical program in which many of the oldest moderators and elders in the state will take part. Thursday night in the house of representatives there will be a further historical program and among the speakers will be Rev. J. H. McClure, president of McCormick Theological seminary, and Rev. John A. Marquis, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. Dr. McClure's theme will be "Some Illinois Pastors and Pastorate of the Century," and Dr. Marquis will speak on "Imminent Issues Before the Church."

A notable event will be the historical pageant which will be presented Wednesday evening at the state arsenal. More than 300 persons will take part in this program. The pageant is to commemorate the establishment of the first Presbyterian church in Illinois, which was in October, 1816. The pageant consists of a series of episodes portraying the coming of good and the conquest of evil. The production promises to be a very notable part of the synodical sessions.

BURNING LEAVES

Bonfires of all kinds on the streets or in the alleys of Jacksonville are prohibited by ordinance, unless a license or permit is given by the mayor or city officers.

A general permit is hereby granted, up to and including Nov. 13, 1916, to burn leaves and trash in the public streets and alleys, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Do not allow fires to burn against the curb stones nor on asphalt pavement, and have all fires out by 3 p. m., so the smoke will all be gone by night.

H. J. RODGERS, Mayor.

Owen Magill of South Mauvais-terre street has gone to Waneta, Neb., to look after business matters.

A JEWISH STATEMENT.

The following address has been issued from New York City. We the undersigned earnestly protest against gawling religion into politics.

Wide publicity has recently been given to a direct appeal calling upon the "Jews of America" to form a "Ten Thousand Club" and to contribute one dollar each to a fund in aid of the campaign for the re-election of President Wilson. The appeal purports to recite in detail various official acts declared to have been favorable to the Jewish people. The sponsors of this appeal seem to have had some misgivings as to the propriety of their course, as they later attempted to explain that the address "was prepared for publication in the Yiddish press and for the guidance of their readers."

Within the past few days a letter has been circulated which indicates a continuance of the effort to disseminate campaign literature containing a like appeal to the Jewish voters.

It is not our purpose to discuss the candidates or the principles and achievements of any political party. We differ in our political affiliations; but we are agreed in condemning any appeal for votes whether to Jews or to the members of any other race or creed, as such. We regard such methods as an insult to the intelligence of the voters who are sought to be influenced by them, and as tending to degrade them politically.

We desire to emphasize the fact that the American Jews regard their citizenship as a sacred possession and resent as a reflection upon their manhood the intimation that they can be influenced in the exercise of the right of suffrage by any considerations which do not apply equally to all of their fellow citizens.

MEETING AT UNION CLOSED

Excellent Results of the Four Weeks Service by the Pastor, Rev. E. M. Crabtree.

Sunday night Rev. E. M. Crabtree closed a successful series of meetings at Union church, near 11th st. For four weeks the meetings have been in progress, conducted solely by the faithful pastor and the people with no outside aid. Meetings were held on each night of the week except Monday night and the interest was excellent throughout. Members of the church were brought together and enlivened while there were twenty additions to the church, sixteen by confession, two by restoration and two by letter.

The flourishing condition of Union Baptist church is very gratifying as so many rural church societies in the county have suffered severely from death and removal so that they are materially weakened and in several cases have abandoned meetings entirely unless it be Sunday schools. It is a matter much to be deplored yet the unpleasant fact remains and it is unfortunate that it cannot be remedied.

As a token of their appreciation of Mr. Crabtree's services the people presented him a purse of money at the close of the meetings and the spirit thus manifested was worth more to the gentleman than the cash donation.

Today Mr. Crabtree, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Curry and Mrs. Mary Ausmus are to go to the state Baptist convention at Alton. They will represent the Union church as delegates.

TAKE "CASCARETS" IF HEADACHY BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter, clogged up in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

LITERBERRY

The trees at Maple Mound have become headquarters for all the blackbirds of Litterberry and Little Indian neighborhoods. At some of their meetings the branches are covered with the little speakers; they are holding all kinds of conventions. Last Tuesday was mother's day, we think, from the way they all chattered and scolded.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brainer of "Beulah Land" farm, drove their Maxwell car to Litterberry Tuesday afternoon and visited with friends.

F. C. Nickle and Sons light plant and furnace company from near Concord, were doing work in our town Wednesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Houston of Cloverdale farm drove their Maxwell car up to Sunshine Cottage on Thursday afternoon, for a little visit. They brought with them Mrs. James S. Hudson, of Coldwater, Kansas. Mrs. Hudson was formerly Miss Etta Wilday and lived near Arenville, with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilday. Mrs. Hudson is looking fine, and very much as she did when a little golden haired girl she romped and played with other little Illinois children, a good many years ago. Mr. Hudson is a farmer, and land owner of a large tract of land near Coldwater. They have two pretty daughters, who are real Kansas girls. Mrs. Hudson will return home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Litter took the No. 8 train Friday morning for Peoria, and were gone the blessed day, coming home on the 7 in the evening. Mrs. Litter reports a very pleasant time.

Our Sunday school superintendent at the Baptist church has given the boy class, to Mrs. Warren Daniels, and we predict a successful winter term for them. Mrs. Daniels is a good teacher, interested in her boys, and prepares her lesson during the week, coming before her class with something worth while.

The Litterberry M. E. church society met on Wednesday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. A. E. Oermeyer. Twenty-three members were present, and fourteen of them answered the roll call with a suitable verse of scripture. Other friends were there to the number of about forty. A new member was added to our society, Mrs. A. C. Rochester, wife of Prof. Rochester of Litterberry college. After the devotional and business part were over a short program was carried out.

Song.
The Candidate—A reading by Mrs. Al. Dunlap.

Mrs. O. G. Dinwiddie gave a spelling contest of fifty words. Prize won by Mrs. A. C. Beavers and Mrs. Earl Rexroat; decided by drawing straws, when the prize, a pretty china dish, was carried away by Mrs. Beavers.

Mrs. Wayne Dinwiddie gave the "Polite Puzzle" which received so many correct answers, there was no prize given.

Reading, "Mary Ma-Honey's Talk on Columbus Day"—by Mrs. McCarty.

The hostess, Mrs. Oermeyer, served an elaborate luncheon, consisting of ham sandwiches (with lots of ham and nice slices of bread), olives, cucumber pickles, cranberry sauce, scalloped oysters, white cake, as light as a feather and dark cake as rich as could be, each cake covered with thick frosting of something awfully good, mixed with nuts, ice cream, coffee (with Jersey cream), a big bowl of candy and a glass each of sparkling cold water, from the "lemonade well" at Arcadia. The assistants to the hostess were the Misses Cora Rudisil, Lillie Lind, Ruth and Ellen Deatherage. This splendid luncheon was also served to the gentlemen chauffeurs on the front porch, who responded with a handful of dimes.

This was a good meeting and will be more fully explained next week. A good offering was taken and all expressed their thanks to Mrs. Oermeyer, for so good an entertaining; we also met Mrs. Edgar Gibbs, of Winchester, and renewed a pleasant acquaintance, began two years ago at the Lynnville Sunday school county convention.

Miss Beulah Olroyd of north of Litterberry is spending the week at "The Maples" with Mrs. Earl Rexroat.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. and Mr. and Mrs. John Young and children drove their Maxwell car to Sinclair on Thursday and spent the day with Mrs. Yancy.

Our reporter informs us that Mrs. Mary Beavers has bought property on East Capitol street and will move to our town some time in the near future. While we are glad to welcome Mrs. Beavers, still we regret to lose any of our friends on East Capitol.

FOUND GUILTY

W. C. Heenan was before Justice Henderson Monday afternoon charged with intoxication. His attorney, John M. Butler, asked for a jury to hear the case. After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict finding Heenan guilty of intoxication and fixing the fine at $3 and costs. Paul Samuel appeared for the city. The jury was composed of Troy Wilkinson, E. L. Mason, Fred Davey, John Huens, Thomas Burnett and Roy Conkle. Mr. Conkle was suffering from an injured hand and it pained him so much during the progress of the trial that he was excused and by agreement the case was tried by five jurors.

MRS. LEININGER'S DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

Mother of Mrs. Alfred Doolittle Passed Away Just Nine Days After Her Husband's Death.

Word was received in Jacksonville Sunday of the death of Mrs. Henry H. Leininger, mother of Mrs. Alfred Doolittle of this city, which occurred at the home of the deceased in Piper City, Sunday morning at 11:20 o'clock.

Mrs. Leininger had been ill since Friday of last week but her condition had improved to such an extent that on Sunday morning it was believed that recovery was certain. However she grew worse suddenly and death came as stated. The circumstances of the death are especially sad as Mrs. Leininger's husband died at Passavant hospital in this city just nine days ago. Mrs. Doolittle was with her mother when the end came. Mrs. Leininger's maiden name was Alice G. McFerson and she was married to Henry H. Leininger in 1864.

Funeral services will be held at Piper City Tuesday and interment will be made in the family lot in the cemetery at Tonica.

J. R. Murray of Peoria spent Monday in the city on business.
